Roads residents say commuters clog street

Residents of the historic Roads neighborhood say downtown commuters and other drivers trying to avoid traffic on U.S. 1 are clogging their roads. "Where I live, it takes five or 10 minutes to back out of my driveway," said Carmen Petsoules, secretary of the Miami Roads Neighborhood Civic Association.

drive to name Southwest 25th Road after the late Dade pioneer Mary Brickell. Brickell designed the neighborhood in 1921, creating its trademark median parkways. "She was the pioneer here and I would like the city to name the road after her," Petsoules said.

The association will have an open meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the auditorium of St. Sophia Greek Orthodox Church at 2400 SW Third Ave.
